Faculty: Donglu Shi

Dr. Shi really knows his topic and is able to teach an intro class to students where we are able to understand what he’s saying. He’s also very good at relating our course material to real live problems which was very nice. He is well spoken and always willing to expound on concepts students do not understand.

Dr. Shi is a very good professor who fully understands the material on every level. He challenges students to think about metallurgy to it’s core and understand not only how mechanisms work, but why they happen.
